Yr Own World (The Blue Aeroplanes)

Give me you and the whole wide world

Give me your tapes and your secret photos

I'll give you my money

Just give me a car

And tell me where you want to go

Let's go to where we're both in love

And no one tells us what to do

And I will get you

Call you bliss

I will get to feel like this

I will want to see you

I will catch a plane

If I want to see you twice

I'll catch that plane again

Y'know I'm living in my own world

Living where I want to be

Living in my own world

Together, yes, and separately

Now we are young and we'll go far

We'll name our children after our car

Have swivel-hipster-fuel-air-blast
And crystal-toting plaster casters
Sing our hymns and hear us sing
Nothing is an unmixed blessing
Drive me down to each west coast
If you can read this, you're too close
I still want to see you
I will catch a plane
I will want to see you twice
I'll catch that plane again
And we'll be living in our own world
Separate on account of me
Living in our own world
But only temporarily
Well, I fall in love
It's never enough
To see how others fall in love
I wake you up, you take my hand
You take me down to Disneyland
Everybody's happy sometimes
Now check this truth and hand it to me
Meantime, can I stop writing now?
I really want to see you
I will catch a plane
I really want to be with you

I'll catch a plane and a train

Until I'm living in our own world

Give me a message I can see

Living in our own world

Call me, call me, call me, call me

Call me anything...
