Little crazy quilt, little crazy quilt I'm all alone
Please keep me warm 'til my loved one comes home
Little crazy quilt, little crazy quilt so gay and bright
I'm dreaming of my love tonight

You've got patches of blue like the blue of his eyes
Patches of brown like the brown of his hair
Patches of gold like the moon in the skies
The moon that shone down when we learned to care

Little crazy quilt, little crazy quilt soon he'll be home
After we're married no more will he roam
When the weddings through we will take you to the house we built
And you'll keep us warm little crazy quilt
