Two men have quarreled, so two men will fight

Oh, stop them before it's too late

Lord, stop them from doing this terrible thing

For the sake of two women who wait.

Or one of us will weep tonight,

One of wont sleep tonight,

One of us will walk forth tomorrow,

Out of a happy life,

Into a lonely life,

Wearing the black dress of sorrow

Out is the street now they reach for their guns,

Please stop them before it's too late

But a bullet rings out and the pain can be felt

In the hearts of two women that wait.

Now one of us will weep tonight,

One of us wont sleep tonight,

One of us will walk forth tomorrow,

One of us a happy life

One of us a lonely life

Wearing the black dress of sorrow.
