You made me promise I'd never leave you
And then you went and left me
But still I kept my promise
I just couldn't believe
We wouldn't have a happy ending
Or any ending at all
No letter, no conversation
Just bruised memories that's all

And I thought we had a chance for love
A rare and special kind of love
Well you opened a door then shut it again
I lost your love and I lost a friend

You said that I understood you a way no other love
Could do

I can't figure out what happened
I'm left here without a clue
Why you wouldn't take a chance on love
A rare and special kind of love
You asked for my love then pushed me away

And now we can never go back again

My eyes are hurting from crying for you
And now it's time to find someone who Doesn't cheat and doesn't lie
Who don't play games a real sweet guy

But I thought we had a chance for love, I'm so dumb,

A rare and special kind of love

But that door is closed and I'm walking away
