"China Bird"

One fine day these words I pray
Will breathe a truth
Within yourself upon a shelf
A life anew
So many roads
It's hard to know what to do
All your dreams all it seems
Is as you choose
For destiny my China bird
Is calling for you

The world turns, the flame burns
Bright and true
Near and far where you are
Guiding you
China bird the open sky
Is yearning for you

If they say, "It's not that way"
Hold your view
Fly above and with my love, a light anew
Spread your wings
The open sky is calling for you
China bird my heart is yearning for you
Ohh
For you, ohh

If you fly away
I'll be waiting come what may
All my love a fragile ray
For you, ohh woh
For you, ohh woh
For you, ohh woh
For you, ohh woh
