

Patty Griffin

"That Kind Of Lonely"

Visit "That Kind Of Lonely" on MotoLyrics.com

(Verse)

Well, this part is turn to corner,
Every room is in disorder
Now the nightingale won't sing for us,
We scared her away.

Well, you asking me a question
And didn't wait to hear the answer.
As we're following the dancer falling down
I flight astairs.

(Chorus)

Every strum is come as one
Every heart is all wound down
Everyone in this room wanted to be somewhere else.
So tonight I found a key and drive away a little early
Is the last time I wanna be that kind of lonely.

(Verse)

There's a scar on your lower left eye
Fades away as you get older
Isn't like you never told her
What kind of man you really are.

I don't know why it's so surprising
Now the sun is almost rising
Cause it's early in the morning
And the moon's still standing tall.

(Chorus)

Every strum is come as one
Every heart is all wound down
Everyone in this room wanted to be somewhere else.
So tonight I found a key and drive away a little early
Is the last time I wanna be that kind of lonely,
That kind of lonely, that kind of lonely,
That kind of lonely, that kind of lonely,
That kind of lonely, that kind of lonely.

