Sweet Blue Cage

(words and music by Richard Barone)

glass blowers
standing by the ocean shore pretending
spending hours on the ocean floor live cargo
arriving to six open arms and a crowbar pry it open on the ocean stage

i want to see you in my sweet blue cage
oh, baby
i want to see you in my sweet blue cage
oh, baby
oh, baby

when im lonely
i remember
i want to go back
it was wet there
and moving
i was tied in a sack
sometimes breathing
becomes a little too hard our little prisoner is coming of age

oh, baby
i want to see you in my sweet blue cage
oh, baby
oh, baby
