Love is in the eyes of the beholder I used to keep a lighthouse lit for you Hoping there's a chance you would stay sober and find your way back home without the booze

In this deep hole of shame
I've got secrets buried
In this deep hole of shame
there is no one to call

Love is in the eyes of the beholder I've kept the clouds at distance from the blue Hoping there's a chance we'd change it over Picking up the pieces and make do

Love is in the eyes of the beholder I
used to keep a lighthouse lit for you Hoping there's a chance you would stay sober but it's not up to me to guide you through

Counter melody:
We were fighting but its over now picking pieces off the ground Once so reckless but I'm older now
picking pieces off the ground

Picking pieces
picking pieces off the ground
