I will come down
I will come to the sun

I will come down
I will come to set the sun

So I take that chain
I take that chain to get it down

And the world is sparkling
And the night is falling in

On the silence
On the silence no-one hears

All the blurs
All the blurs will disappear

And the things you're leaving
And the things you're leaving my son

And the moon is glowing
And the moon is glowing in

On the silence
On the silence no-one hears

All the blurs
Are silent now no-one hears

And the sun is going
And the sun is going my love
