Anyway the Main Thing Is
by Patty Larkin
I took the train
Just for the view
I took my boyfriend's last name
For something to do
I took advice
Now I regret it
I took my time
Cause I could get it

I shook my head
And it woke me up
I shook a strange hand in my bed
And that was enough
I shook the truth
Out of the tree
It shook my faith up good
But it satisfied me

Anyway the main thing is
Regrooving the dream
Regroovng the

Love doesn't think
Love doesnt look
Love takes a flying leap off the brink
Love swallows the hook
Love doesn't sleep
Love is out of control
Love is only human it can swallow you whole
