Italy

by Patty Larkin

I'd like to go to Italy

Just to eat the food

Just to drink the wine

Just to go

I'd like to go to Italy

Just to walk the road

Beneath the olive tree shade

But Italy is a long distance call

Italy is a long distance call

Operators are standing by

But I don't speak Italian at all

I have a map of Italy

And it looks just like a boot

Kicking aqua blue into the air

A friend who went to Italy

Said the men are rude

They don't look at your eyes

Or your hair

But Italy is a long distance call

Italy is a long distance all

Operators are standing by

But I don't speak Italian at all

I'd like to go to Italy

So my passport would look used

Just to change my point of view

Just to go

I'd like to go to Italy

Just to walk the road
