I guess I'm normal after all
I don't feel so crazy
Psychoanalysis after all of this
Fails to amaze me

I guess it's normal fallin' down
And the sound of it frames me
All my pedestals have nothing there to hold
Now they all blame me

All those nightmares
Don't seem strange
Truth is I've seen better days
Anyway

There's no reason or rhyme at all
And nothing can faze me
All the analysts cannot handle this
They can't even face me

All my feelings
Lost in words
The world is reeling from bad to worse
It could get worse

I guess I'm normal after all
Now that normal is crazy
On the wings of a snow white dove
I'd love you to save me
