Upside Down
by Patty Larkin
Wondering when, wondering how
No use in wondering now I've Got a feeling deep inside me
Things are never gonna be like they used to be
Don't lie to me

I've got an ounce of sense
And a pound of pride
Handful of tears
And nothing to hide I've
Got a feeling deep inside me
Things are never gonna be like they used to be
So don't lie to me

But my world spins round
Like I'm Upside Down
Inside out better hold on tight
Hang on to your hat,
It's a long ride,
Upside Down

Through the window I can see you cry
Stand at the screen door
Watch you pass by
Got a feeling deep inside me
Things are never gonna be like they used to be
So don't lie to me

Dark side of the moon looks strange
A black hole drawn on a charcoal page
Gotta feeling deep inside me
Things are never gonna be like they used to be
So don't lie to me

But my world spins round
Like I'm Upside Down
Inside out better hold on tight
Hang on to your hat,
It's a long ride,

Upside Down

I don't worry 'bout the falling rain
Muddy boots, cold wet pain
It's just never gonna be the same again

So I hold my breath
Close my eyes
Walk through the door
Free fall trough the sky
Deep inside me
You say you never ever saw this side of me
To you I'm never gonna be like I used to be Well, that's alright with me
