When the Heavens Light Up
by Patty Larkin
Look at your hand there in the wind
Familiar as your name
You're gonna spread your fingers like a wing
That will lift you up when you wave

You're gonna wave good-bye
And the world will sigh
When The Heavens Light Up

You're gonna hear a string of violin
Whisper soft and low
It's gonna take you where the ocean ends
To the river red and gold

You're gonna wave good-bye
And the world will sigh

Look at your hand there in the wind
So far away, so near
You're gonna leave a pillow when this ends
With a feather and a tear

You're gonna wave good-bye
And the world will sigh
When The Heavens Light Up
