Wolf at the Door
by Patty Larkin
do you mind if I change in here she said I said no go right ahead you're the star
you can hang your sweaty little black leather dress right here on my guitar I said my what big eyes you have what big teeth
what tattoos
what big scars
she took a bite out of me I said feet come on take me to my car

you don't say no
with an empty belly
and a barbed wire bonnet on a wolf
hangin' at your door
you don't say no
with an empty belly
and a barbed wire bonnet on it
with an empty belly
and a barbed wire bonnet on a wolf
hangin' at your door
with an empty belly

I was doing handstands on the bandstand at the shimmy shimmy coco bop bar everybody had a phone in their pocket everybody had a greasy charm
mr. big and the pistols kissy kissy baby
this was bizarre
they huffed and they puffed
they blew me away
like a ten cent cigar

and a barbed wire bonnet on a wolf
hangin' at your door

wolves dressed up in sheepskin dressed up in sequins and a hat you can never be too paranoid miss bette davis said that look out little girls and boys talk about your toys
talk about your cool cats all the better to eat you with all the better to beat it I said that
