There are walls made of paper, an' walls made of stone

An' some, better made, out of livin' alone
I built a wall that no-one could break down
Locked up my heart where it couldn't be found

You saw past my shackles an' let love unfold Showed me the truth from the lies I'd been told My heart was a prisoner, like no heart at all
So your love reached higher than the wall

Higher than the wall, a thousand feet tall
High above the darkness where the blue shadows fall Yeah, your love reached higher, where it's better an'
brighter
Yeah, your love reached higher than the wall. (Wall, wall.)
Yeah, your love reached higher than the wall

Now I'm wearin' freedom instead of those chains Empty reminders don't cause me no pain
It's all gone away like the leaves in the Fall
'Cause your love reached higher than the wall

Higher than the wall, a thousand feet tall
High above the darkness where the blue shadows fall
Yeah, your love reached higher, where it's better an'
brighter
Yeah, your love reached higher than the wall. (Wall,
wall.)
Your love reached higher than the wall

Hey, hey
