I can't make these heartaches go away he's always on my mind
The memories of the love we had don't fade away with time
What is this crazy road I'm on I don't understand What makes two people fall in love what good's a promise when the love is gone Where do you go when you find yourself on the lonely side of love

The rain is fallin' to the ground the neon rainbows glow
I see us standing far away where peaceful waters flow It's the only dream that I have left that I can hold on to Now am I right or am I wrong for holding on to what is gone
And what's left to believe in on the lonely side of love [steel - fiddle]
I can't make these heartaches go away...
Now am I right or am I wrong...
