There's a troubled wind a blowin' through my crazy life
I feel the chill begin it's gonna be a long long night
I hear the thunder roll but I don't fear the lightning strike
Cause deep inside I know I'm gonna make it through all right
So let the walls come tumblin' down bring on the last sunset
I ain't moving to heartbreak town the party ain't over yet
Yeah let the devil do his worst but don't take any bets That life has finally quenched my thirst the party ain't over yet not yet [fiddle]
Every drop of rain that ever fell into my life Helps me ride this pain they were a blessin' in disguise
And I know in time this'll soon be yesterday Nothing I can't climb I've got the will to find the way
So let the walls come tumblin' down...
[fiddle]
So when the morning comes I'll do more than just survive
I'll walk into the sun and live until I die
So let the walls come tumblin' down...
Hey hey the party ain't over yet no no the party ain't over yet
