Oh, Iâ€™m sorry I forgot where I was

I Try to think about Elvis, Memphis,
Oprah in the afternoon
I try to think about palm trees, fig leaves
The creature from the black lagoon
I try to think about high heels,
Good deals, anything to get me through
I just can't concentrate
You're all I think about these days

I try to contemplate the cosmos
And what goes, round and round the sky at night
I try to think about champagne,
Freight trains, slowly rollin out of sight
I try to focus on the headlights, and street crimes,
Everytime I think I might
I just can't concentrate,
You're all I think about these days

My mind wonders where it will,
And when it settles right on you,
I forget what I should say,
I forget what I should do

My mind wonders where it will,
And when it settles right on you,
I forget what I should say,
I forget what I should do

Ugh, come on Patty get it together

I try to think about Shakespeare and Leap Year,
Beatles or the Rolling Stones
I try to think about hair dos, tattoos,
Sushi bars and saxophones
I try to think about the talkshows, new clothes
But I guess I should've known
I just can't concentrate,
You're all I think about these days
You're all I think about these days
