There's no hope for me today
Given love I blew it away
Didn't have a heart to receive it

Closed the heart open the mind
She's too warm refrigerate her
Started with a kiss
And then I ate her

Made a meal and read the signs
Children killed a teacher Thursday
Made him eat his words
He's full of learning

All my lights have blown a fuse
Tripped the switch I live in Toontown
Am I alive
Or am I dreaming

All in the cause of a war
Head and heart into battle
Hold your hands up and feel the rain
Falling and falling like metal
Again
All in the cause of a war

I'm so sad I cried a flood
All around tall buildings falling
I'd be falling too
If it weren't for you

Pave the way the prophet comes
Show you what my backbone's made of Yoga has a host and hidden meaning

All in the cause of a war
Head and heart into battle
Hold your hands up and feel the rain
Falling and falling like metal
Again
All in the cause of a war

I'm so high the room's too small
Hit my head my roof is bleeding
I just put my fist through the ceiling

I'm just high I'm not insane
Think you must have slipped me cocaine
"Waiter take it back I ordered sham pain"

All in the cause of a war
Head and heart into battle
Hold your hands up and feel the rain
Falling and falling like metal
Again
All in the cause of a war

Hold your hands up and feel the rain
