A one. A two. A one two three four
You remember on the TV
The perfect example for you and me
The fifties had rock, and the dancing craze
Seventies saw clashes lost and made
But the decade in between saw the end to that
Of course the nineteen sixties had Joe 90

Ah every afternoon, sitting on the floor
I'd sit and gaze and mainly adore
Joe upholding justice and law
And shootin' all the bad guys, one, two, three, four!

Joe unfortunately was held by many strings
But our brave lad fought what evil brings
The perfect example for you and me, Joe 90!
He fought what all evil brings, Joe 90!
The perfect example for you and me, Joe 90!
Fought for justice and all good things, Joe 90!

Whoah, Joe 90!
