You are the stars above my head
You are everything, I've no safety net
And I accept I'm addicted to this kiss

Breathless and intense you consume me
Like you've found a growing space
And I have no defense

Then my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me
The resistor has been breaking down inside me

You are the stake I'd never bet
Till I had this dream that we were wed
And it was something I felt quite easy about

Funny that I'm not scared
Not a bit
Of giving everything for the first time

Then my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my
soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me

It's too late, it's too late, it's too late
It's too late, it's too late, it's too late, it's too late

Then my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my
soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me

Then my radar sends a warning, trying to numb my
soul
Trying to keep control but I'm falling, yes, I'm falling
The resistor has been breaking down inside me
