"Orange Pekoe"

Days grew shorter welcoming the autumn frost Crunching leaves under feet, summer disappears like rain
Colours fading fast

Nothing in life is a waste
It happens for a season, for a change
When time seems to take it's toll
Believe in a future of difference

Fate brought us somewhere once to realize something more
Paths are drawn on a map, a life that you call your own
Have to make it last

Days grew shorter
Rain falls faster
Paths made straighter
Dreaming longer
