Baby listen you gotta do
What you believe
But where's it written you have
To get down on your knees
And give away your heart and soul

You believe it that's how love's
Supposed to be
Don't you feel it drag you down
From underneath
You're drowning but you won't let go

Someday you're gonna give up
More then your heart can take
It's too bad you gotta find out
After it's just too late
There's such a thing as too much love

You're hanging on
Dancing in the driving rain
Blacking out the part that makes you feel the pain
Pretending that you just don't know

Someday you're gonna give up
More then your heart can take
It's too bad you gotta find out
After it's just too late
There's such a thing as too much love

You think more love
Will cover up your tracks
But you blind yourself
To the cold hard facts
You're in a turn down
Feel so much but there's no way out
Cause your sweet dreams turning to a time bomb now

On the wire holding on
Use you up until the till is gone
Keep on wondering
Say why does love have to be so sad
Cause you keep throwing good love

After bad

Someday you're gonna give up
More then your heart can take
It's too bad you gotta find out
After it's just too late
There's such a thing as too much love baby

Someday you're gonna give up
More then your heart can take
It's too bad you gotta find out
After it's just too late
There's such a thing as too much love baby

Someday
