You mean the world to me
I knew the moment then
Your eyes pour into mine, I saw myself

You now are home to me
It's in the little things
We now have years between, silences of knowing
Eternities in seconds
Unfolding in dreams I feel the future of our lives

Come on inside this broken heart and make a home.
Come on inside these empty arms and hold me close.
Come on inside the bedtime covers, feel my warmth.
Come on inside my secret places, I am yours.

There is a universe, there is a galaxy,
There is an easy chair, here inside of me.
Waiting here for you and me,
Let's build a life together - I've waited too long.

Come on inside this broken heart and make a home.
Come on inside these empty arms and hold me close.
Come on inside the quilted covers, feel my warmth.
Come on inside my secret places, I am yours.

Maybe fire raged, maybe karma played it's way,
Maybe all my life was blind so I could find you.

Come on inside this broken heart and make a home.
Come on inside these empty arms and hold me close.
Come on inside the nighttime covers, feel my warmth.
Come on inside my secret places, I am yours.
