You went out and had your fun on my dime.
So I left you for the tenth time.
Your twin was nicer to me than you.
You sounded good when I called so I hung up.
Because you were never true. You were never true.
Yes I loved you but never again.
I found a better man.
One who would not leave me for his old best friend.
With you I could never win.
I could never win.
Was that Barbara, Peggy or this time Sue?
Now I have to go and get tested because of you.
You were never true. You were never true.
Good bye my old boyfriend. I hope some day you get a clue.
