"Never Break Me"

You can beat me till I'm bleeding on the floor
You can call me names to bring me down some more
But you will never break me
You will never break me

Why're you trying to erase all that I am
Trying to weaken me cause you don't understand
But you will never break me
You will never break me

You will never break me

You can beat me till I'm bleeding on the floor
You can call me names to bring me down some more
But you will never break me
You will never break me
But you will never break me
You will never break me
