I'm just a man on this spinning globe
Who am I, what do I know
But I've got a feeling that even when the music ends
Goodbye doesn't say it all
There's another play when the curtain falls
We're all rehearsing for forever but until then

Whoa, oh, oh
I guess that's just the way this old world works
Moments of heaven mixed with moments of hurt
I'll be waiting 'til we are together again
Everything's falling apart right now
But with all of the hope that my faith allows
I'll be waiting 'til we are together again

The time we had was touched by God
And I'm thankful but I had a thought
I wondered why something so perfect ever has to end
I fall and pray and screamed out loud
But the silence never told me how
How to keep on living 'til we are together again

Whoa, oh, oh
I guess that's just the way this old world works
Moments of heaven mixed with moments of hurt
I'll be waiting 'til we are together again
Everything's falling apart right now
But with all of the hope that my faith allows
I'll be waiting 'til we are together again
Together again

I'll be waiting 'til we are together again
I'll be waiting 'til we are together again
