Words & Music by Paul Brandt

I'm bored
I need a new topic search the world for another subject and by the time I find it I've forgotten where I was iPod and a plasma TV on the latest reality series surf the web and I M a bit while I'm on my cell-phone

I'm high def and I'm proud of it and tivo doesn't skip a bit if I fall asleep I know that I won't ever miss a thing rewind, record and slow mo satellite and digital cable wi-fi, I'm high speed got a Brooks & Dunn Ringtone

But you can't upload love And you can't download time You can't google all life's answers But everything is gonna be alright Cause I love you honey and what we've got's the genuine real deal
This ain't no
Virtual Life

I need a break from technology
I think I owe you an apology I've analyzed our data to quantize the way I feel been thinking maybe I should hold you now that would feel real good a real female instead of e-mail sounds alright to me

Old school Yeah, a little old fashioned still don't know how it happened but now we got 3 kids, a car, and a mortgage of our own

I think I finally got the lowdown

Sometimes we just need to slowdown take time to smell the roses, pet a dog and be in love

Ain't nothin like the real thing
