These times, you've cried
When she's wasn't alone, and you weren't by her side
Wake up, and feel
There's something but nothing in between
You've cried much more better ways
But still it hurts in the same usual way

I wanna know how it feels
To get hurt by another way
When you come undone, when you come alone
As you've said, we're crying each-others beds

One kiss, one heart
They're never gonna be apart
Ones dream could be others way
Of getting hurt by another day
I wanna know how you feel
Everything gone and finally meet you for real

One look could hurt
More than hundred words
You let your soul fly
When you left me here to cry

I wanna know how it feels
To get hurt by another way
When you come undone, when you come alone
As you've said we're crying each-others bed
