tunning by the neon lights she used to lead the way
"she treats me right everyday" they once heard me say

i'm not the one to blame
i'm not the one to blame
i believed in us in vain

i come around just to find all the landmarks gone (now they're gone again) nevermore the same red wine i'll never play our song

i'm not the one to blame
i'm not the one to blame

now i can't even breathe just a picture of you staring at me

i'm not the one to blame
