you started building walls and to speak with a different tone little by little you lost what it takes to make it in this world alone and before you realized your life had passed you by all you could've done was to testify

when you cry it's a sign
that you're here with me
if only for a little while

you walk a corridor with so many alike
but most of the time you're all tied up and too weak to open your eyes

i haven't seen you in years
but i guess that's ok
cause you wouldn't remember me

cause you wouldn't remember me
