"Over Blue Skies"

They say time can heal everything.
They say love will never hurt.
They said we would be over in time.
And no one would be able to see.
We could paint the colors of your eyes
On a window over blue skies.

Through the days and the nights, we stand alone.
Through the days and the nights, we say goodbye.
Through everything gone nothing has changed.
But the last thing I want to do is say goodbye.
Over blue skies. Oh...over blue skies.

We could sing of a new day in spring
Lay on the green grass in summer time.
We could gaze at the stars in the night.
And nothing would change over time.
Except floating over blue skies.
Through the days and the nights, we stand alone.
Through the days and the nights, we say goodbye.
Through everything gone nothing has changed.
But the last thing I wanna do is say goodbye.
Over blue skies. Oh...over blue skies.

I helped you help myself.
One breath, one voice
Help Yourself.
We need time to heal everything.
Everything except blue skies.
Floating over blue skies.
Over blue skies
over blue skies
Over blue blue skies.
