Those birds out the window are flying low.
Those birds in the trees are singing high
Singing all those high notes
I can't reach but I've tried

The wind in my hair feels fine.
The wind over the ocean feels cold.
And it's blowing everywhere
Over every place that I go,

Because it's hard to breathe
When I'm taking every chance I need
And it's hard not to cry.
When I'm taken every risk I need to fly.

Life starts anew again;
We all can be born again.
When life winks at you;
Don't hesitate to say hello then.

The birds in the sky are flying high
The birds on the ground are singing low.
Singing all those low notes
I can't reach but I've tried.

The water in the glass is looking so warm.
The water in the lake is looking so cold.
It is looking so cold
I keep wondering if I can swim.

Oh, it's hard to breathe
When I'm taking every chance I need
And it's hard not to cry.
When I'm taken every risk I need to fly.

Life starts anew again;
We all can be born again.
When life winks at you;
Don't hesitate to say hello then.

La la la,
Don't go in the water if you can't swim.

La la la
Don't go near a cliff you might fall in.

La la la la la la la la.
La la la la la la la la.

Oh, it's hard to breathe
When I'm taking every chance I need
And it's too hard to cry.
When I'm taken every risk I need to fly.

Life starts anew again;
We all can be born again.
When life winks at you;
Don't hesitate to say hello then.
Don't hesitate to say hello then.
Say hello then.
