What the hell have you done to me?
I feel like I need my soul set free.
This swollen heart is lying here.
Should I have known this was wrong?

I can feel you, I can feel you,
I can feel you by my side.
I can't breathe, I can't breathe.
I can't find the words to verbalize.

I can't find the words to say
What the hell have you done to me?
Eighteen times you said you're sorry
Why can't I find the words to verbalize?
Nothing can be more than
The eighteen times you said you're sorry.

The darkness is fine
I know what to look for.
The light burns my eyes
I know what to ignore
When I'm far when I am near.

I can't find the words to say
What the hell have you done to me?
Eighteen times you said you're sorry
Why can't I find the words to verbalize?
Nothing can be more than
The eighteen times you said you're sorry.

I can feel you, I can feel you,
I can feel you by my side.
I can't breathe, I can't breathe.
I can't find the words to verbalize, verbalize.
