The sun has whispered to me.
Telling me it's your voice I hear.
The moon has called me a few times
Telling me you're here right now.

I don't know where I've gone.
I don't know if I've seen you in so long.
I'm pondering if I should tell you
I love your love songs
I love your love songs.

I'm perched on the bench by the tree.
I'm waiting for you to show your face.
I don't know where I can see you.
I can't believe the sky today

I don't know where I've gone.
I don't know if I've seen you in so long.
I'm pondering if I should tell you
I love your love songs
I love your love songs.

You sing I listen.
Your voice; it glistens.
You sing I listen.

Your voice: it glistens

I don't know where I've gone.
I don't know if I've seen you in so long.
I'm pondering if I should tell you
I love your love songs
I love your love songs.

You write a song for me every night.
When I see you, you hold me oh so tight.
Tonight, I wanna hear a love song.
A love song, You're Love songs.

I don't know where I've gone.
I don't know if I've seen you in so long.
I'm pondering if I should tell you

I love your love songs
I love your love songs.

I don't know where I've gone.
I don't know if I've seen you in so long.
I'm pondering if I should tell you
I love your love songs
I love your love songs.
