You always burn the town at night
You always run around
Blame it on the night time, for love
You've seen that cloak of darkness tonight
Put on that skimpy dress
Blame it on the night time, for love

Nobody ever knows your name
It's just the part
On the night time
Yeah, blame it on the night time

It's time to lose control tonight
No one will ever know
Blame it on the night time, for love
This is your chance to break out now
More than one chance to make out
Blame it on the night time, for love

She loves to dance, she loves to sing,
She needs to blame it on the night.
She loves to dance, she loves to move,
She needs to blame it on the night.
She loves to dance, she loves romance,
She need to blame it on the night.
She loves to love, she lost control,
She needs to blame it on the night.
