You pushed 'till the breaking point until the hammer fell
Even took away the choice but you were free to go
Silence and reason all on the floor
And now you're standing at your post
Though your mind says go
Cold arm of change brought you low no alimony
He said you were free but you got nowhere to go
Nowhere to run or hide your painful story
Seems so similar similar to mine
You're spinning in a hoola-hoop waiting waiting
Free to stay free to stay
I'm free to stay but I just can't go!
You pushed till the breaking point until the hammer fell
Even took away the choice
