"Love Me More"

I can't believe that you still want me
After everything I've done
I can't believe that you still want me
To be with you
I was sure that you would leave me
With the mess that I had made
I was sure that you would take away your love
But I was wrong and you're still here
And your love it carries all my fear
And there's nothing I can say
And there's nothing I can do
To make you love me more
You're the only one who loves me
Just the way I am
You're the only one who loves me so perfectly
And even when I told you never call on me again
And even when I called your love a lie
But I was wrong cause you're still here
I hear your voice whisper in my ear
