"You"

I remember you
You're the distant child that I once knew oh I knew you
I saw you grow
The outer man grew muscle but inside emotion lay frozen
Everybody knows the real you only your mind knows
See the loud mouth boy
He's as brash as cancer but he longs for you
To see his compassion
See the little shy girl
She's polite as Grandma but she wants
To break from her prison cell
Everybody knows the real you only you know
Everybody know the real you only your mind knows
I see you breaking' free now
Running through the green grass over the fields yeah
Hunting season's finally over sleep little child sleep
Though you tried you knew
