"Evade The Pain"

Rounded up the problems that I'm feeling here today
Wrap them up and hide them out of sight and far away
Take the ball and chain away that always keeps me down

The sun won't always shine just cause you're sheltered from the rain
Everything worth anything will never be the same
You can write a brand new chapter but you'll never change the end

So twist one more, all though I know you'll break me.
Just be sure that I'm still in the game.
As long as I forever keep on twisting,
Evade the pain.

Solitude us where it tends to hot me really hard.
I keep myself in company, I'm keeping up my guard.
Turn my back and hide from what is standing right behind.

So twist one more, although I know you'll break me.
Just be sure that I'm still in the game.
As long as I forever keep on twisting,
Evade the pain.

Everything I know is different.
Darker, colder, smaller, thinner.
Everything I know is different now,
different now, it's different now.
