I'm not your alibi and not your golden sheep,
I'm not your enemy and I'm not your sword!

Don't look at me like a priest!
Don't look at me like I'm dead!
I'm not your sweet love and not your crying child,
I'm not your failure and I'm not your judge!

We're not alone, not alone without you!
We are not so weak, not so weak like you!

Thousand doors locked between us,
Please don't break them in!
There's nothing left to talk about
And there's nothing left to share with you!
Better leave this place on time, take my cash,
Go and get a train to nomansland!
I will never learn from you and you will never read my Lines,
So far away from each other but still too near!

Thousand doors locked between us
Please don't break them in!
I'm not your alibi and not your golden sheep,
I'm not your enemy and I am not your sword!
We're not alone without you!
We're not so weak without you!
