All the things Ive said and done
Must have done me wrong
Because youre no longer by my side
If I could take back days gone by
And live them once again
If I could live them better I would try
Where did we go wrong?
What could I have said and done?
How could I have changed your mind?
What could I have done to make you mine?
Remember times that we once shared
Whenever Im alone
Think back to the moments that we had
Your laughter echos in my ears
And burns my careless heart
I cant believe things ended up so bad
Where did we go wrong?
What could I have said and done?
How could I have changed your mind?
What could I have done to make you mine?
How could I have changed youre mind?

I would have never imagined

The pain that I feel

How I would miss your touch

God I miss you so much

I cant breathe
