There's a Lord of the waves
That keeps us entertained and well informed.
He never makes mistakes
Cause He knows us much better than we do.

We are so addicted to faith
Every word He sais we take as truth
We are lost in a maze
Got a wrong map, but such a beautiful view

Get in line boy! Get in line!
Just get in line boy! Get in line

Take your new clothes and be yourself
Is this trend or just another uniform?
Just a file on a shelf
A certain target demanding specific inputs.

There's a clown joggling our heads
He has to keep us dizzy and confused
While we are locked in sheds
Waiting for tomorrow's graze

Get in line boy! Get in line!
Just get in line boy! Get in line

There was a time when we fought for land
Today we resign willingly
There's a clever guy out there who understands
We're such an easy game to play

So get in line boy, just get in line!
Get in line boy, just get in line.
