"Drop Of Humaneness"

Blames lay down my selfhood
Destroy and obsess my mood
No sin, but should find mercy
So conceit wins after all
Never try, never hide, never cross to the line
What's the price for your lies, in this state of mind?

Widely hate them 'cause they gave you all
Silent hatred when they saved you all

Forsakes, betrays my kindness
My soul, is ash of the dole

Longs for, drop of humaneness
But it's given you all.
Never try, never hide, never cross to the line
What's the price for your lies, in this state of mind?

Widely hate them 'cause they gave you all
Silent hatred when they saved you all
Spit in your own face and deny your own race
Future is godless, why should you pain?

Save your last one...
