The night you poured the drink over my head
You could've told me that you were jealous instead
Like the night you trashed my hotel room
Weren't you taught how to talk these things through You called me forty times an hour when you knew
I was in a radio interview
A hundred times I gotta tell you what I'm up to That's why patience is a virtue

I started second guessing myself around you
Became a shadow of myself around you
Ooh had to watch my steps around you

Cramped up, bottled up, trapped in your shoes

What doesn't kill me makes me stronger
Losing you means I live longer
Everyday with you has made me wiser Tears have gone now I smile wider and wider and wider
No longer need to put my make up on
To cover the scars cause the scars are gone ohhhh
yeah
Now I'm scarless

When you bought me that beautiful red dress
I never wore it cause I couldn't hide the bruises
You took the scissors out on my best jacket
Knowing damn well that was my favourite
You threw my phone against the wall cause there's a message Then I told you it was just my girlfriend Then you called my friend to find out all that she knew Trusting me was the best that you could do

I started second guessing myself around you
Became a shadow of myself around you
Ooh had to watch my steps around you

Cramped up, bottled up, trapped in your shoes
What doesn't kill me makes me stronger
Losing you means I live longer

Everyday with you has made me wiser
Tears have gone now I smile wider and wider and
wider
No longer need to put my make up on
To cover the scars cause the scars are gone ohhhh Yeah
Now I'm scarless
