It happened today now I'm walking away from this piece of silver and blue say you can see what this happens to me, when it's really what's happening to you

Now I slapped the road on the palate stone, till you move me from where I lay But I can't sleep on imperial sheets where the bed always has to be me.

I saw it clear in the space for me, hearin' your menagerie come on and dance over broken glass and this joy all of this beautiful things.

The party is been and the people we know always make a good holiday what do we do ..for two, lonely people with nothing to say.

I'm having it out without all glass out so most pieces of silver and blue right on the sea what you're wanting from me and nothing I'm wanting from you.

2 x
You are the key that you gave to me, to this soul menagerie
Come on and dance over broken glass
and this joy all of this beautiful things.

Come on and dance over broken glass
and this joy all of this beautiful things.
