I've made space to keep you in my life
But I cannot compromise for someone who can't do the Same

And it's strange to remember I once was
At the very center of your every single thought

But, baby you forgot

I've got a feeling it's over
I've been hearing you told her
That you love her, I bet you never loved me back

I have changed, and darling I have tried
But I've run out of time, and you've run out of chances
Too

And it has become so very clear
I'm no longer needed here
At one time you had heart
But, baby you forgot

I've got a feeling it's over
I've been hearing you told her
That you love her, I bet you never loved me back
I've got a feeling it's gonna'
Be a long year ahead of me
I've got to find a way to get back on track

And it's strange to remember I once was
At the very center of your every single thought

But, baby you forgot

And I will always love you
I will always love you
I will always love you
I will always
I will always
