Now my thoughts are slow
I don't know what to do
Like a bug in a web
I'm trapped and so are you

Oh, my feet are warm
My heart has caught the flu
Must have picked it up between
The falsehoods and the truth

Don't go
Just stay
I'll hide my rusty mind away
You won't see it

As we walk in rain
I dream about a car
We could drive away
Forget about the scar

Oh, I see the car
But there's no gasoline
I would walk a million miles
If it could change this into being just a bad dream

Don't go
Just stay
I'll hide my rusty mind away
You won't see it
