I'm on the road tonight
To be by your side.
My hearts never beat so fast
Because I've lied and lied and lied.
I can't think of the words to say
Gonna hurt you so much anyway
Turn my key and lock the door
Oh lord.
I walk the floorboards to your bed
I know you'll say that this is it.

But if it's all you're gonna say to me tonight
You know I guess Iâ'd better leave before the light
Before the sunrise.
And if it's all the love we're gonna share for life
You know I guess we made it right through all the lies,
I'm sorry that you hated me tonight.

Dear love you need to know these things I've done,
You doubt you'll ever stop this pain
And I'm numb.
I walk the pavement to my car,
I turn my key try to restart my heart.

But if it's all you're gonna say to me tonight
You know I guess I'd better leave before the light
Before the sunrise.
And if it's all the love we're gonna share for life
You know I guess we made it right through all the lies,
I'm sorry that you hated me tonight.

Don't take this so hard,
Don't show them you're scarred.
Take this old heart,
It was yours from the start.
